Comments from recent workshop participants...

"I liked everything about this workshop: the presentation was fluid; the organization was clear and logical; the pacing was comfortable; the presenters were warm, authentic, and personal."

"We took the time to talk about our relationship with each other and listen to each other. We had stopped following the techniques/exercises we learned at the 2-day workshop. This workshop was a great reminder of what we learned and a "kick in the pants" to get us working on strengthening our relationship."

"We recently completed the 2-day workshop that started our process towards a better relationship. This course reinforced what we learned and expanded our knowledge base."

"The Gottman Method is a tool that we use to stay happy and keep ourselves together. It takes a lot of work, but I think there are places that a relationship can go that can only be attained with further knowledge and new techniques."
